Bettye Joan Fleming, age 87, passed away peacefully on November 7, 2013. Mrs. Fleming was born on April 10, 1926, in Normandy, TN to the late Fred Troupe and Ruth McMillan. She was preceded in death by the love of her life, John B. Fleming, her husband of 50 years. Mrs. Fleming is survived by her daughter, Cathy Hopper (Bart); and son, David Fleming (Barbara); grandchildren, Wade Hopper, Shannon Hopper, and Laura Wheeler (Jeremy); siblings, Mary Ruth Howell (Jimmy), Fred Troupe, Jr. (Ann), Sue Warren (Jim), Nancy Thompson (Ronald); and brother-in-law Ralph Fleming (Jackie), as well as many nieces and nephews and her friends at Park Place.

Mrs. Fleming was a graduate of Isaac Litton, longtime resident of Inglewood, Madison, and Park Place in Hendersonville, and a member of Inglewood United Methodist Church and Hendersonville First United Methodist Church. She was an avid gardener and seamstress who enjoyed travel, reading, watching the Braves and the UT Vols, and was always ready to hear a "tall tale." She most loved being with her family, especially her grandchildren.

My dear sweet friend Cathy and David and all the family, How blessed I am to have your friendship all these years and for the kindness and love your parents had for me. I cherish our friendship with all the wonderful memories of Shadow Lane and beyond. How blessed we are to have been raised by such wonderful parents who valued Heavens treasures over earthly things. I'll miss your Mom and continue to miss your Dad however faith comforts us knowing they are together in true peace and eternal joy. With all my love to you and family may God continue to bless you all, Ann Bohan Hall
