I met Pop 15 years ago when he hired me as a bartender. At that time I was a single mother of 4 young boys. Pop has always been there to help, whether with words of wisdom, a pat on the back saying it'll be alright kid, or a swift kick in the butt telling me to get my head on straight. I love Pop as if he were my own father and wil miss his smile terribly. My heart gos out to the entire Patterson family and I will forever appreciate your generosity in sharing such a wonderful friend.Christine DunneCharles AllenJamie AllenDaniel AllenMathew Allen

I remember the day we took Elijah to the farm across the street to breed her with another horse. Pop's was trying to convince me that Elijah was going to lay back and the other horse was going to climb on top. He also like to tease me about helping him put the roof on the barn.
