I will always carry fond memories of Nannie and the love she shared. From the days at the cabin fishing with corn or playing board games to the days of simply interrupting her soap operas to visit. She was meticulous with her planning and keeping a schedule so that she never forgot anything or missed an event. She was selfless and willing to do for anyone, often times when she was ailing herself. Her abilities as a caretaker definitely included being an expert grandmother who could guess high temperatures when sick. I admire her for the memories that my children have of her for always having a smile on her face and making them feel loved and special. She was truly a wonderful grandmother and a positive influence in my life.
