I would like to say that Dom was a friend and father in law. Even though the years have passed since we last talked, I have always Respected him. He is a good man and a good friend may God give his family peace through this difficult time my prayers are with you

Some of my greatest memories as a child are of my grandpa in his garage, letting me play with all his tools and pretending to mimick his woodworking. As an adult now, looking back, he never cared that I was mixing all of his parts up, he just let me play. Then he would pour coffee and let me sit on his lap and dip my cookies in it, there were always cookies for the coffee hour. He would play cards with me and we would laugh bc I was probably trying to cheat and outsmart him. He was always so patient and loving, and those memories will be a permanent fixture in my mind and on my heart. May you rest forever in peace.
