There's so many memories I don't even know where to start. When I first met you you had that orange mustang. You would come in to Wendy's very often as soon as we opened and get you a burger and always got cheese dip for your fries. You were never share you were never bashful but you are always funny! It doesn't seem real that you are no longer here and I miss you so much but I also know that you are no longer in pain and in a better place. Fly high beautiful angel I love you and will see you again one day! Cheryl! ❤️😭

I love you Tammy! Life just seems to really suck here lately! I wish our family would have been closer, but it wasn't! I'll hold on to my memories when we were kids, and all the times I came to Mrs. Winners for breakfast and got to see you! The many of times I ran into you at random places in Madison! Seems like lately it was always at a funeral for a member of the Swafford family! Last time I seen you was a few months ago when someone was blowing their horn at me at a red-light in a new white truck! It was you, and just like your mom. You said what you doing Boy! Getting older really sucks, when you see so many good people leaving this earth! Tell Kat I said whats up! Watch over us please! Rest In Peace Cousin!!
