Joyce Holloway was a true professional, a kind lady, and a dear friend. She was a leader for many years at the Metropolitan Nashville Airport Authority and her humor helped make every day better. She loved her son Brian with all her heart and she was so proud to be a grandparent. I'm thankful she is no longer in pain and now she can work on the book she planned to write titled "Other Duties As Assigned". She was a great story teller, a big Tennessee Volunteer fan, and she will be missed by all. My deepest sympathy to all of her family and friends. Sincerely, Doug & Susan Kreulen
