I always loved it when aunt Liz was at Granny and PawPaws. We would just naturally start cutting up and making jokes. Some of my best memories were of the nights we would eat and play skipbo or shanghai rummy. And what an angel to open her home for those Christmases. For me, doing something like that would have given me a nervous break down.

Elizabeth was a very loving and caring sister to us all. Anything or anyway she could help her family, she always found a way to do it. Family was the most important thing in her life. We had more fun playing card games and dominoes. I may not have my sister with me now, but we will always have each other. You and me kid. I miss my sister in Heaven, but she fits in there better, no more pain or suffering. Elizabeth was a gift to us all. Always in our hearts and very sorely missed. Fly high our dear angel. Love and miss you more than I can say. Kiss Brewer, Sean, Mom, Dad and all our brothers and sisters for me.
