He was a devoted husband and father, that enjoyed family vacations all over the world. Some of their favorite trips were to the great outdoors where the family enjoyed hiking and fishing, camping out and making memories. One of Frank's favorite pastimes was fishing, a talent he passed down to his children and grandchildren.

Frank served as a deacon for his church family for over 30 years, as well as teaching and leading adult Bible classes and youth Bible studies and fishing trips. He was a humble servant that was devoted to his Lord and Savior, his family, and his community.

Frank was a social butterfly and never met a stranger. He had a wonderful sense of humor and met everyone with a strong handshake and a welcoming smile. He was a man of his word and would follow through on every promise. He will be dearly missed by all, but most especially those that loved and knew him best.

I am so sorry and saddened for your loss. God's Word, 1 Thessalonians 4:13-18, reminds us of His promise to reunite all Christians with their loved ones in Heaven again for all eternity. May you be comforted now and in the days ahead by God's faithfulness in keeping all of His promises.

It is rare to find someone with a heart like my father-in-law's. He was easy to love with his warm smile, sense of humor, and incredible hugs. He placed great importance on his family and made God the center of his life. A simple man, he was a loving grandfather and father, and his love for my mother-in-law endured for over six decades, a love that transcends beyond this world. I am grateful that he was the first to welcome me into the family when my husband brought me home all those years ago. I will always cherish the lessons he taught me, even when he didn't realize he was teaching them. The hugs, hand squeezes after prayers, and waving goodbye from the porch are memories I will hold dear. He showed me what it means to be a true Christian, even in difficult times. He didn't just talk about being an example to others, he lived it. Thank you for loving our children and creating so many happy memories with them. Thank you for the laughs. Thank you for loving me like I was your own. Most of all, thank you and mom for raising the man of my dreams and teaching him how to love unconditionally, and be an amazing husband and father. You once told me that we will reunite with our loved ones in heaven, so I hope you are enjoying your reunion with them now. We miss you and love you deeply, but we know you will be waiting for us at the gates of heaven when it is our time. "When we all get to heaven, what a day of rejoicing that will be! When we all see Jesus, we'll sing and shout the victory!"

Deepest condolences and prayers for comfort to the family. My dearest memory of my Uncle is when I was a child. Anytime I would ride in the car with him and he hit his brakes he would put his arm across the front of me to stop me from going forward and say "Whoa Nellie Bell. May you rest in peace with Jesus.

Frank Sanschargin....my Pepa. I love and miss him so very much. I have 45 years of wonderful, fun and loving memories that I cannot choose only one to share. So what I will share is his love. He loved me through all of the dark hours in my life and he did it unconditionally. He loved me until I could love myself and after that he taught me how to love Jesus and how to trust him. I will never forget being able to see his love for Christ because it was the way he lived and he was always open and transparent about his walk with Christ. That's the best gift he and Mema ever gave to me. I am forever grateful to have him as my grandpa.

As a kid I'll never forget the fishing trips, the one hunting trip he bravely took me on, how he taught me to drive, and was stern but fair as a grandfather. He was a great man full of knowledge. He would give you the shirt off his back if needed but was not one to be taken advantage of. He read through the bull crap like he read through his bible and wasn't afraid to speak on either. As one of his many grandchildren, I'm sure I'm not alone when I say he will definitely be missed. Love you pepaw, rest easy.
