Margaret E Harper

OCT 27, 1944 - MAR 22, 2025

We celebrate the beautiful life of Margaret E. Harper, an upbeat and energetic soul for whom age was only a number. Margaret's zest for life was infectious, and she touched the hearts of everyone she met.

A hard worker who found her professional passion in laundry, Margaret was a people person who never met a stranger. Feisty and confident, she loved meeting new people and could read a room at a glance. Her honesty was legendary— honest when the occasion called for it—and her pragmatic life advice was a beacon for many. Music was the soundtrack of her life. She delighted in singing along with modern pop and hip-hop, as well as grooving to classics by Marvin Gaye, Santana, Prince, and Fleetwood Mac. Her home was always filled with music, and she cherished every note.

Though not renowned for her cooking, Margaret could make a mean sandwich that brought smiles to faces. She embraced travel and reading, passions that kept her young at heart and enriched her vibrant spirit.

As a grandmother, she was wonderfully unorthodox, forever youthful, and full of joy. Margaret loved deeply and passionately, her family and dear friends always feeling the warmth of her compassion.

Margaret passed away peacefully surrounded by family on March 22nd, 2025, in Hendersonville, TN. While we will miss her fierce spirit and loving heart, we carry forward the happiness she brought into our lives.

Let us honor her memory by embracing the joy, laughter, and music she so freely shared. In Margaret's own words: "Yeah, buddy!"

Those who have passed on before her are parents Willie Gann and Sarah and Wilson Ransom Jones, brother, Lester Thomas McPherson, and sister, Maudine Jacobs. Those left behind to cherish her memory are children, Elizabeth Yvonne (William) Lee and James David Harper, grandchildren, Shanna (Ronnie) Craddock, Kathy

My sweet, funny spunky grandma always trusted me, Kathy to cut her hair. And although each time I was always nervous, she wouldn't like it, she always loved it. And she always let me clean her house. grandma wouldn't let you do anything for nothing. She always insisted on paying whomever for their time for doing anything for her. I enjoyed my time working with her laundry attendant. she was such a strong, independent woman, and she had the best worth ethics. I'm very thankful that she was my Grandma. She taught me how to carry myself as a woman and a lady. To always get up and be ready and show up. She was always feisty and spoke her mind and expressed her opinion. I loved how authentic she embraced of being her 100% self. She loved and cherished her family so much with even indifferences each and everyone unique personality. She still has so much love to show us. All three of our mother Elizabeth's daughters, shanna and me, Kathy and Sarah she helped raise us and we never did without necessities thanks to her. She showed up and showed out for us ladies as our Grandma for all of three her granddaughters. I loved our relationship and how we would stay on the phone for hours just laughing with her music playing in the background. She was so full of character and so fun to be around. And her laughter was contagious. And she cherished and loved her animals they truly were her babies.
