Dear Jennifer I gave birth to you and felt I was the luckiest person alive to have given birth to such a beautiful little girl and I continued to surprised every day after cause you brought so much joy to my life I know you hit a bad patch and so did I but even though you may have felt I was hard on you and maybe didn't love you but it was because I loved you so much and was probably frustrated I couldn't help you but I have never loved a child more in this world I loved more than I loved you! I love both my daughters but you were my first born a spcial feeling goes with being the first born I miss you every day and know we'll be together again my beautiful child I miss you so mama

I held her when she was a baby and was there at the end. I will love you, Jennifer, forever. You were my girl, a pain yes, but also someone who would do anything for her family. She personally told me Jesus was her personal savior and I know as I know GOD Danny Williams
