“ I filled this out once and it disappeared, so I'll try again. James, my big Brother, my sweet sweet big Brother. I love you so much. My heart hurts. I feel so blessed to have met you in my early teen years and gotten to be with you ever since. Despite miles between us, we were always there for each other. You've listened to my heartaches and I've listened to yours. I'm going to miss our video chats, random messages and just having you in my corner in general. I love you.... so much.

“ I'll never forget riding in your white Eclipse as a teenager or panicking while you drove me around last summer and you couldn't hear a word i said. I have always loved you Brother. I loved you before I met you, while I've known you and I'll always love you even after you're gone. A piece of my heart is missing. Until we meet again. I love you.
